

Athletic Pathways to the US: Perth

Are you a young athlete who wants to access the best college sports programs in the world?

Come along to our athletic scholarship seminar in the Upper Function Room at Loftus Recreation Centre in Leederville to find out how you can unleash your potential on the world stage! You'll get exclusive information on how to apply to US universities on a sports scholarship, and hear from speakers who have experienced first-hand life as a US college student-athlete.

There will also be a Q&A session at the end, with Tessa Berger, a top athlete who studied in the US on a football scholarship!

WE WILL COVER:

- + The US university admission process
- + How to make your athletic scholarship application stand out
- + Timeline for US university applications
- + US athletic scholarships and funding
- + The costs of studying abroad and how to navigate the US financial aid process
- + Where and how your chosen sport fits into the US university process
- + Requirements and support from an athletic and academic perspective
- + The US academic testing/qualification process - SAT/ACT
- + When to start preparing for SAT/ACT

TESSA BERGER

Tessa attended Florida Gulf Coast University on a Division I full athletic scholarship, studying majors in business management and accounting with a concentration in entrepreneurship. She has represented New Zealand on the international stage for the past decade in her chosen sport of football. Most notably, she competed in the FIFA Women's World Cup and received the honour of being named ASB Bank Young Sportsperson of the Year in 2011.
