Students aspiring to a career promoting and improving health and nutrition in individuals and the wider community, might like to consider four reasons why they might like to choose ACU:

- 1. The Bachelor of Nutrition Science builds on ACU's expertise in health-focused course offerings, including elective choices tailored to students studies.
- 2. Students who have a flair for business, may choose to double their skills by studying the double degree Bachelor of Nutrition Science/Bachelor of Business Administration.
- 3. By meeting the requirements of the Nutrition Society of Australia (NSA), the program has a clear focus on food science, community and public health nutrition, and the role of diet in health promotion and disease prevention.

Nutritionists are employed in the public and private sector, including hospitals, clinics, government bodies and private practice. With more than 3000 placement health partners nationally, students will have the opportunity to engage in community and workplace experiences.

Career in Human Resources

The Good Universities Guide* states that Human Resources Officers provide administration services for the recruitment and employment of staff. In small organisations, Human Resources Officers are usually responsible for all staffing matters. In large organisations they may specialise in a particular area such as recruitment, wages and entitlements or staff training.

Personal requirements of a Human Resources Officer -

- Good planning, organisational, analytical and decision-making skills
- Good oral and written communication skills
- Tactful and discrete when dealing with people and confidential information
